OREGON LEGISLATURE.

EIGHTH BIENNIAL SESSION.

[Phonographically reported for the Oregonian.]

Senate--Morning Session.

SALEM, October 7, 1874.

Senate met as usual, at 10 o'clock, and was called to order by the President.

Absent—Haley, on leave.

Prayer by Rev. Father McCormick of the Catholic Church, Salem.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. WATSON presented a remonstrance signed by 965 citizens of Douglas county remonstrating against the proposed division of that county, and moved that the same be referred to the Committee on Counties. Carried.

Mr. GOODMAN presented a petition from citizens of Harrisburg praying for an amendment to the charter of that town, which was referred to the Committee on Counties.

Mr. WISDOM moved that reports of Committees be read and disposed of when handed in. Carried.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Education reported back S. B. 63, a bill to repeal the act requiring the payment of a fee of $5 from purchasers of State lands, with a recommendation that it do pass.

On motion the bill was ordered engrossed and read third time to-morrow.

The same committee also reported back S. B. 42, a bill making it discretionary with school districts to adopt the text books [illegible] by the State Superintendent, with a recommendation that it do not pass.

Mr. WATSON moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

Messrs. Watson, Myers and Walker spoke [illegible] in favor of the motion to postpone, and were in favor of the law as it now stands.

Mr. ENGLE hoped the motion would not prevail; said that a great many districts had not adopted the books, and thought it was the general feeling that they should be allowed to choose for themselves.

Mr. BARNES thought Senators were frightened at the bill before they were hurt; that the bill did not repeal the old law, but only allowed those who did not wish to use those books to do as they please; hoped the motion would not prevail.

Mr. DOLPH concurred with the Senator from Wasco, that Senators were scared before they were hurt; said that these books seemed to have been so manipulated as to favor certain publishing houses, [illegible] of the purpose of [illegible] of good books in the schools; said he was not prepared to vote upon the passage of this bill, or the repeal of the old law, for the reason that he had not examined the books selected, and did not know whether they were good or not; but that the facts were that these books had been selected by the Superintendent for the purpose of benefiting certain publishing houses.

Mr. MYERS said it was not strange that the Senator from Multnomah should make such charges, as he was a lawyer and was accustomed to using any and every occasion that might offer for the purpose of making charges against political opponents and advancing his own peculiar views; said the Senator had attacked a man who had selected these books, for the purpose of carrying out the law and who had no voice on this floor. The law requires the County Superintendents to vote upon a great number of books submitted to them; and that the State Superintendent had nothing to do but accept the series receiving the highest number of votes,—which he had done; said it was wrong to make any such insinuations against an officer who had no chance to reply or defend himself.

Mr. DOLPH—Will the gentleman allow me to ask one question?

Mr. MYERS—Yes.

Mr. DOLPH—Is it not well known that the State Superintendent did use his influence and the position which he occupied in order to have a series of books adopted which he had made himself?

Mr. MYERS—No sir. There is no evidence before this Senate that he did anything of the kind. He simply [illegible] the series, which [illegible] adopted by [illegible] of the county officers, and that he did not know, nor did he think any other Senator knew, that Mr. Simpson had used his influence for his own benefit. Said that in this county [illegible] represented there was no desire to have these books [illegible]. Did not think that teachers should be allowed to go into districts and influence directors to change the books for the ones they happened to be accustomed to, and thereby compel patrons of schools to incur the expense [illegible] year, or every [illegible] of purchasing new books, which would be the case if this bill was adopted.

Mr. WATSON spoke at some length in favor of the old law. Said the expense of the purchase of the books had already been incurred, and that none of the Senators had raised objections to the books themselves, but seemed to concede that they were good ones. Said he thought the criticism of the Senator from Multnomah on the State Superintendent hardly fair, as he thought they were based on presumptions rather than on facts.

Mr. TOWNSEND thought that a bill of such importance should be indefinitely postponed, that its friends should have the utmost opportunity to present their views and have the law fixed so as to be satisfactory to the public.

Mr. DOLPH moved to amend the bill by striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting a clause repealing all that portion of the old law relating to uniformity of books. He then said that he had the most kindly feelings for the late Superintendent and had no malice against him to gratify, but that it was a remarkable instance of enterprise in the publishing company who published these books if they incurred that expense without any understanding that they were to be adopted in this State; said he was willing to say anything in the presence of a man which he would say behind his back; and that there was no officer in this country from the President of the United States down to a constable, whose acts might not be rightfully critized on this floor or by any citizen, and that to refrain from criticism because a man had no chance to reply, would bar all criticism of the acts of any person who is not a member of this body; said that when the Legislature adopted this law and created the office of State Superintendent, it was not expected by any member that a person should fill that office who would have and exercise the privilege of selecting his own books for the use of the schools.

Mr. MYERS arose to a point of order and stated that that officer had not edited one of the books which had been selected.

Mr. DOLPH—That was my information, and if I am wrong, I am willing to be corrected; but the gentleman has not the right to call me to order on a mere matter of information. My information may be as correct as his, and I might as well have called him to order when he asserted that his constituency were in favor of the law as it stands. Said he was not prepared to discuss the question as to whether the books were not the very best that could have been adopted, but that the manner of their selection did not meet the expectation of the legislators who framed the law and created the office of Superintendent.

On motion, the Senate adjourned.

Afternoon Session.

Senate met at 2 o'clock, and on motion of Mr. BRISTOW took a recess until 4 o'clock for the purpose of visiting an exhibition of the Deaf Mutes, pursuant to invitation accepted heretofore.

Senate resumed at 4 o'clock and proceeded with the consideration of S. B. 46 pending at adjournment in the forenoon.

On motion of Mr. VAN CLEAVE the bill was referred to the Committee on Education.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Public Lands reported back S. B. 21 repealing the act creating the office of Register of State Lands at La Grande, with a recommendation that it do pass.

Mr. BRISTOW, from same Committee, presented a minority report offering a substitute for S. B. 21, which repeals all acts on the Statutes regarding the subject matter of that bill.

On motion of Mr. DOLPH both reports were laid on the table.

The Judiciary Committee reported back S. B. 14, 39, 47, with S. B. 71 as a substitute. The report was adopted.

S. B. 71 was then read second time by title under suspension of the rules. One hundred copies of the same were ordered printed.

The Committee on Corporations, to which was referred the petition of citizens of La Grande asking for a repeal of the act incorporating that city, reported in accordance with said petition S. B. 72, and recommended its passage. The report was laid on the table.

The Committee on Railroads reported back S. B. 31 Winnemucca R. R. bill with S. B. 73 as a substitute, with unanimous recommendation that the substitute be adopted and the same do pass.

The report was adopted, and under suspension of the rules S. B. 73 was read first time by title.

The Committee on Ways and Means reported back S. B. 60, a bill to authorize the Treasurer to convert currency into coin and pay off the lock bonds, with amendments, and recommended the adoption of the amendments, and that the bill do pass. The amendments were adopted.

The bill as amended provides that the State Treasurer be authorized to [illegible] funds, out of which payments are to made into coin by the sale of the same at the best market rates, and that whenever the funds arising out of the 5 per cent. of the proceeds of public lands, and from the sale of internal improvement lands shall amount to the sum of $25,000 coin, the Treasurer shall advertise for bids, which advertisement shall notify all holders of lock bonds to bid the lowest rate at which they will dispose of the same to the State; none of which bids shall exceed the par value of said bonds, and provides that the person making the lowest bid shall be entitled to surrender such bonds to the amount of cash on hand for the purchase thereof, and that the same shall be paid and cancelled by the Treasurer, and provides for the loaning of said funds in case no bids are made or bonds offered.

On motion the bill was ordered engrossed and read third time to-morrow.

The Committee on Counties, to which was referred the bill providing for the organization of Umpqua county, reported that a remonstrance had been received containing a larger number of names than the petition, and reported the bill back without recommendation. The report and bill were laid on the table.

The Committee on Printing reported that they had approved and [illegible] the report of the State Printing Ex-[illegible]. The report of the Printing Expert stated that he had measured the printing of the new Code and gave the several items of the same,—the aggregate of which amounted to $15,675 28.

Mr. OFFIELD, from the Committee appointed to visit and examine the Institution for the Blind, reported the same in good condition and recommended a sufficient appropriation to school the blind of the State for the ensuing two years.

The committee to visit and examine the Mute Schools reported the same in good condition and recommended an appropriation of $11,000 for the institution for the next two years.

Both the above reports were referred to the Committee on Education, with instruction to prepare a bill in accordance with the recommendation of the committees.

The Senate Committee to whom was referred the bill incorporating the town of Gervais, reported the same back with amendments, which were adopted, and the bill was ordered engrossed and read third time to-morrow.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.

The joint committee appointed to examine the Insane Asylum, and to ascertain the cheapest mode of keeping the insane, reported in favor of adopting the proposition of J. C. Hawthorne and enclosed S. B. 76 authorizing the Governor to contract for their keeping.

Mr. ENGLE arose to inquire whether any other propositions for their keeping had been made.

Mr. LEE, Chairman of the Committee, said that there had been two other propositions made by Dr. Carpenter, of this city, one of which was to erect buildings on grounds belonging to the State, which the State should take off his hands at cost price at the expiration of his contract in which he was to keep the insane for $4 per week. The other proposition was to erect the buildings on his own grounds and keep them for $4.75 per week. But the Committee, in view of the fact that these buildings would require considerable time for their erection, during which time the State would have to make other arrangements for the keeping of the unfortunates, and believing that they could not be kept properly by any one for a less sum than that contained in the proposition of Dr. Hawthorne—$6 per week—they had regarded Hawthorne's proposition as the only feasible one, and had recommended its adoption.

A motion to table the report was lost, after which the Senate adjourned.

House--Morning Session.

After prayer by Rev. L. L. Rowland, the present State Superintendent of Common Schools, the roll was called, Messrs McClung, Reed of Marion, Simpson and Wasson failing to answer to their names.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

THE HOMESTEAD BILL.

Mr. BRADSHAW moved to reconsider the vote by which H. B. 12, exempting homesteads from execution in certain cases, was adopted.

Mr. FIDLER was aware of the object of the motion to reconsider. There was one or two points in which the bill was defective, but he was in favor of letting it go to the Senate, where these defects could be remedied.

Mr. CHAMBERS was not willing to let an imperfect bill go out of the possession of the House without correction. It was our duty to correct it if it needs correction. The sixth section allows persons occupying property to claim the benefit of the Act, whether they own the premises or not. Such a provision was liable to very great abuse. The bill was defective in other respects.

Mr. STEEN agreed with the gentleman from Benton (Mr. Chambers). He thought it dangerous to leave an error to be corrected by the Senate. The bill had passed the House without particular examination, and he hoped the vote would be reconsidered.

Mr. BRADSHAW said his reasons for making the motion were that the bill had passed without many knowing what kind of bill they were voting for. He was satisfied the bill would, in its present shape, not meet with the approbation of even its friends if they would examine it carefully. It was not wise to send it to the Senate, and depend upon their perfecting the bill. If any bill of this character should pass it should be more perfectly guarded than this is.

Mr. BROWN voted against the bill on its passage, and hoped the motion to reconsider would prevail.

The motion prevailed.

The question being on the passage of the bill,

Mr. CHAMBERS said that he was opposed to the passage of the bill. He had doubts whether we needed a homestead law at all at the present time. It was not called for by a sufficient number of people to justify the House in its passage. It would greatly complicate business transactions throughout the country. It would be no advantage to poor people. With such a law on our statute books, merchants and others would refuse to credit people who had not property above the value of the exemption. Then the clause of the bill which allowed persons occupying the premises and not owning the same, could be greatly abused. A man might own thousands of acres of land, and procure the exemption of the whole of it by getting irresponsible persons to occupy it. He doubted whether Oregon had any need of a homestead law at this time.

Mr. STUMP thought the arguments urged by the gentleman from Benton (Mr. Chambers) were simply additional reasons why the bill should pass. If it would have a tendency to prevent people getting in debt, he would be in favor of it for that reason.

Mr. GEARIN did not see the logic of the argument of the gentleman from Benton. He believed the bill would have a good effect. For a long time people had been asking the passage of such a law. Almost every other State had some such law and he wanted the poor man to be able to have something set apart so that it could not be taken from him by his creditors. Where men had been unfortunate and lost all they had this bill gives them a chance to build up again. He hoped the bill would be corrected if it was defective and, therefore, moved to refer it to a special committee of three for amendment. The motion prevailed and the chair appointed Messrs. Gearin, Chambers and Bradshaw as such committee.

Mr. GALLOWAY, by consent, reported from the Special Committee to whom was referred H. B. 6, to promote the study of Anatomy, recommending the passage of a substitute.

Mr. CRANSTON moved to adopt the report, which Mr. BROWN moved to amend by indefinitely postponing.

Mr. GALLOWAY said this bill would only legalize what was now carried on illegally. It was necessary that medical schools should have subjects. It was necessary that the science of medicine should be studied, and this was simply a bill to extend proper facilities to those who wished to do so.

Mr. CRANSTON thought the State needed such a law to enable her physicians to properly prosecute the study of anatomy. He would favor the bill.

Mr. CHAMBERS said the time had come when this House should take immediate and decisive action upon every bill coming before them. The session was half gone and a great amount of business remained to be transacted. He was opposed to the bill. It would be a disgrace to the statute book—a disgrace to the State, to humanity.

Mr. MAYS agreed with the gentleman (Mr. Chambers), that the time had come when we must get to work. He had been at first in favor of this measure, but after more mature consideration he thought he could not give it his support.

Mr. STOTT opposed the motion to postpone. He regarded the bill as being very important to the physicians in this state. We are now overrun with quacks, and he wanted to do what he could to encourage the education of competent physicians.

The motion to postpone was lost. The report was adopted and the bill ordered printed.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

Informed the House that that body had refused to concur in the passage of H. B. 3, to repeal the law increasing the salaries of Judges; that certain Senate bills and resolutions had been correctly enrolled; that the Senate had concurred in H. J. R. 18 inviting the State Geologist to address the Legislature, after amending the same so as to read "members of" the Legislature.

On motion of Mr RIDDLE the amendment was concurred in.

Also a message returning H. B. 31, which had been transmitted to the Senate through mistake; that the Senate had passed H. B. 14, to amend the Game law, with amendments.

A motion to adopt the amendments gave occasion for another general tilt at this law, after which the amendments were concurred in.

That S. B. 1 and 2 had been truly enrolled, and were transmitted for the signature of the Speaker.

THIRD READING OF BILLS.

H. B. 46—To provide for the erection of a State Capitol building.

Mr. REED moved to refer to a special committee of seven.

Mr. STEEN moved to amend by referring to Standing Committee on Public Buildings. The amendment was accepted, and the motion then prevailed.

H. B. 61—To give women the right of suffrage. Messrs. Crawford, Dean, Jewett, Kelly of Benton, Lame, Laughlin, Lee, Mays, Reed of Marion, Rinearson, Scott, Shedd and Wilson (13) voted aye; 46 no.

So the bill was lost.

WINNEMUCCA RAILROAD BILL.

Mr. REED, from the Joint Committee on Railroads, reported that they had under consideration H. B. 38, to provide for the construction of the Oregon Central Railway and telegraph line, and after duly considering the same, herewith submitted a substitute thereto, with a recommendation that it pass.

The only change which the substitute makes in the original bill is by amending next to the last section of the bill, so as to provide that the Governor, together with a man to be appointed by the bondholders, and a third to be selected by these two, shall have power to regulate fares and freights on such road.

Mr. BROWN moved to read first time by title. Carried.

Mr. STOTT moved to print 200 copies of the bill. Carried.

Mr. LEDGERWOOD, from the committee, reported back H. B. 34, to prevent the spread of contagious diseases among domestic animals, with amendments. The amendments simply reduce the minimum penalty affixed for a violation of the act.

Pending the question of the adoption of these amendments a discussion arose upon the merits of the bill in which Messrs Steen, Reed, Chambers, Stump and Blake favored its passage, and Fidler, Riddle and others opposed it.

The House adjourned.

Afternoon Session.

On the House resuming at half past one, Mr. Fidler's amendment to strike out the minimum penalty for the cattle disease prevention bill was adopted.

On motion of Mr. FIDLER the bill was ordered engrossed for third reading.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. LAUGHLIN, from the Committee on Roads and Highways, reported back H. B. 54, in relation to railroads, with a recommendation that the sections requiring railroad companies to fence the track and certain points be stricken out.

On motion of Mr. CRANSTON, the report was adopted, and on motion of Mr. LAUGHLIN, the bill was ordered engrossed for third reading.

Mr. STOTT, from Committee on Judiciary reported back H. B. 65, to amend the law relating to the collection of taxes with a recommendation of four of the committee that it do not pass, and a recommendation in favor by one of the committee,—Mr. Florence.

Mr. STOTT, from same Committee, reported back H. B. 19, for the construction of ditches and flumes for agricultural and stock purposes in certain cases, with an amendment relating to the service of notice, which was adopted. On motion of Mr. BROWN the bill was ordered engrossed for third reading.

Mr. STOTT, from same Committee, reported H. B. 42, relating to the assessment of property with an amendment to strike out a clause deducting indebtedness to the amount of $5,000, and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "one third of his or her indebtedness."

Mr. MAYS moved to amend the amendment by making it the duty of parties [illegible] to give the name of the persons to whom the indebtedness is due, and that there shall be no deduction for any indebtedness that is not due in the county where such persons are [illegible], and unless they shall give the name of person to whom the indebtedness is due, to the satisfaction of the Assessor, the deduction shall not be allowed.

Pending action on the amendments, the House at 2:15 adjourned until 4 P. M., to enable the members to attend an exhibition by the pupils of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

On resuming at the appointed hour, a long discussion ensued on the amendments to the assessment bill, but no result was arrived at by 5 o'clock, when the House, by the close vote of 28 to 27, adopted a motion by Mr. MAYS, to adjourn until to-morrow (Thursday) morning.

WESTERN WASHINGTON INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION.

FOURTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION.

First Day.

OLYMPIA, October 6, 1874.

The weather, which had been rather suspicious looking for several days, suddenly cleared off after a heavy dew, which fell last night, and the sun managed to throw off the veil which had been hiding him. Out he came with a smiling face, bright and early this morning, to take a look at that most beautifully located of all the cities of the Northwest coast, Olympia, with its orchards teeming with fruit, its gardens full of flowers, and its hills covered with pine, maple and cedar trees of immense growth, which in turn are overtopped by old Rainier, stretching itself until its head is completely hidden amongst the clouds; whilst far away to the north we behold a beautiful bay, that would be unsurpassed as an ornament and a benefit, were it not for the flats, which are every day exposed by the ebb of the tide. Were it not for this drawback, the terminus of the Northern Pacific would never have been located at Tacoma, and to-day Olympia would have boasted of her five or six thousand inhabitants. However, we shall let the N. P. R. R. repose in peace for a while longer, until they have seen the error of their ways, and we shall then give them some friendly advice.

With this digression I shall proceed to discuss the merits of the Fair, which as yet is in an incomplete state, but it is anticipated that by noon to-morrow (at which time all the entries will be closed) everything will have a satisfactory appearance.

Amongst the first exhibitors to arrive, I noticed Mr. W. O. Bush, who created such a sensation last [illegible] with his display of grain at Seattle. This year he has even outdone himself, for of all the exhibitions of grain (both threshed and in sheaf) that I have ever seen, this takes the lead, both for quantity and quality, and entitles the gentleman to the thanks of the whole community, for showing what can be done in this Territory in the raising of grain. He has one hundred, or more, specimens displayed, and over fifty specimens of potatoes, besides many other articles, which I shall refer to in a future letter. He is (agriculturally speaking) the Barnum of our coast, and well able to run an exhibition on his own account.

The amount of fruit, flowers and vegetables received up to this time is very large, and, I presume, will make a beautiful display when completed.

The exhibition of manufactures is rather slim, but may improve by to-morrow, after all the boats have arrived from down the Sound. It is to be regretted that just at the time the North Pacific was most wanted, she had to be hauled off for repairs; for the Alida, although a safe boat, is very small for the requirements of such an occasion. However, I hope that between the latter and the Zephyr all the goods intended for exhibition may arrive.

The Fair takes place in Columbia and Fireman's Halls, which are both in the same building, the one above and the other below. The latter is devoted to works of art, curiosities and miscellaneous articles, while all the other classes are represented up stairs. The stock and poultry will be exhibited on the Public Square, which is well adapted to the purpose. I fear that the display of meats will be very scanty, if any, which must probably be attributed to forgetfulness on the part of the butchers, or else dullness in the market. However, these shortcomings are not much noticed where other classes are so well and fully represented, and I think there is every reason to predict that the Fair will be a successful one this year, in spite of the dullness which has had such a depressing effect during the last year, and from which the people of this Territory have not been altogether exempt.

These County and Territorial Fairs are matters of vital interest to the people, telling, as they do, to the world, what vast resources are within the grasp of all who are inclined to labor with their hands, and throwing out strong inducements to immigrants to come forth and take up the land that is almost free to all, where the climate is so pleasant and the soil so fertile. In a few short years the land which now can be bought for a song, cannot be obtained without considerable outlay; so those who now invest will eventually reap a large reward.

The Zephyr arrived this evening with a large number of passengers and an immense quantity of freight for the Fair, and I think after the Alida arrives to-morrow from down Sound, a large increase of goods for exhibition may be expected.

Dr. Kellogg, the President of the Association, together with the Secretaries, Messrs. R. H. Hewitt and A. A. Manning, are doing all they possibly can to make things successful, and as far as I can see, they will not fail. A good String Band has been engaged for the inside, and the Brass Band for the outside, so that nothing is being left undone that can add to the pleasure of visitors.

To-morrow I shall discuss appearances more fully.

The Hayden expedition has reached Canyon City, Colorado, having, in the aggregate, taken the altitude of and located eight hundred peaks, traveling twelve thousand miles, mapping the geography of the Sangre de Cristo, Elk, Uncompagre, San Juan, Front and Elk-head and Wet ranges. It would be premature at this time, to state the number of important discoveries made; but the discoveries of hot springs, the movement of avalanches, the survey of glacial valleys, and the accurate scientific work by which a new base line has been laid down, will excite an interest rarely characterizing explorations.

Twenty-two years ago, says a Walla Walla paper, J. M. Abadie, Esq., then in youthful vigor, left the land of his nativity, La Belle France, for the United States. For some years he has resided at Walla Walla, where, by strict integrity and honorable industry, he has secured an enviable name among the solid men of the place. He has now started on a visit to the scenes of his youth across the seas, and we wish him a happy and prosperous trip. Mr. A. will sail on the Oriflamme for San Francisco.

THE LINN COUNTY FAIR.

THE NINTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE LINN COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

ALBANY, October 7, 1874.

YESTERDAY'S RACES.

At the close of the races yesterday, four hours after the mail closed I telegraphed you the general results of the trotting and running races. The trotting race of mares that have sucking colts was won by Bill Gird's Antelope and by John Cowdell's Flora—a mare 24 years old. The latter was distanced before she trotted a quarter of a mile. A trotting match of brood mares with sucking colts has not been heard of before since the fall of Adam. It was an unmitigated sell, it reflects discredit on all concerned, is calculated to bring disgrace on the Fair, and racing into contempt.

The running race of a mile dash was among the best of the season, and called for the admiration of all present. W. Gird's b. [illegible] the inside track, G. J. Bassett's b. s. Butralph second, R. Lander's sorrel mare Dove, third, and M. White's brown g. Norway got [illegible]. Before starting Butralph broke away from his trainer and galloped round the track [illegible]. The high temper of this fine horse [illegible] the [illegible] somewhat tedious. Off they [illegible] went in good style, kept close [illegible] first quarter-mile, Buckskin leading [illegible] half-mile post. Then Norway and Butralph got to the front and ran side by side for nearly a quarter of a mile, Buckskin close at their [illegible]. At the turn for the homestretch the struggle became great; the race was now evidently between Butralph and Norway. The whip was freely used. By a grand effort and good riding Butralph made the final bound that brought him in past the judges' stand first by about half a neck, accompanied with the cheers of the people and the congratulations of friends. The riders of Norway and Buckskin brought a charge of foul riding against the rider of Butralph, but the judges were [illegible] that the very riders who made the complaint were the transgressors, and [illegible] Butralph the winner. Time, 1:50.

The morning opened foggy, but the sun soon came out bright and warm, with the prospect of as splendid an autumn day as the friends of the Fair could desire. The entries for the Fair proper are still very limited, as they are open till to-morrow (Thursday) which is to be the great day of the Fair and really the opening one for exhibition.

IN THE STOCK DEPARTMENT

There are only yet seven pens of sheep, numbering twenty in all. These consist of a few good French and Spanish merinos, two Cotswolds, and the balance graded bucks, ewes and lambs.

IN THE PAVILION

The exhibitions as yet are confined to the sewing-machines of Wheeler & Wilson, Singer & Co., Howe & Co., and the Florence machine; Gray's pianos and organs; patent bedsteads. The ladies [illegible] their [illegible] with exhibits in their line; they will likely be prepared to [illegible] a respectable display to-morrow.

IN THE AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL DEPARTMENTS

The Capital Lumbering Co., exhibits two of their favorite plows by Mr. J. R. Hardy, of Albany. A wagon and buggy are exhibited by Willert & Busch, Albany; these include the whole exhibits in these departments so far.

THE RACES TO-DAY

will include a pacing race at 1:30 P. M., between Wm. Gird's Shoo Fly and Mr. E. Montgomery's Sconchin; best two in three. The race is free to all, but these are the only trotters yet, and the only pacers known in the stables. The purse is $150; first horse $100 and the second horse $50.

For the trotting race at 3 P. M., for horses that never beat three minutes; purse $150; first horse, $100 and second horse $50, the following entries are made: Mr. James Harris' roan mare Butcher Girl; Mr. Welsh's b g Dick Turpin, and the b m Lilly, entered by Mr. L. B. Lindsey.

As the express will close hours before these races take place, I will telegraph you the results if their merits justify me in doing so.

The receipts for admission and licenses yesterday amounted to $750. The attendance to-day is much greater than yesterday and will, most likely, be large to-morrow.

Among the new and valuable industries in

ALBANY,

Is Mr. Andrew Williamson's flax mill, just completed, and commenced scutching flax this morning. He planted 125 acres this year near Albany, with imported Dutch and Russian seed, from which he has got 100 tons of straw after being steeped and dried, from which he expects to get 20 tons of dressed flax. Some of the flax is 4½ feet long, and none shorter than 3½ feet. He says the climate, soil and water are admirably adapted to raising flax to advantage; that the fibre is as fine and strong as any flax raised in Great Britain, if not more so. Mr. Williamson will send his flax to Ireland where he will get 12s a stone of 16 lbs, equal to 20 cents a pound. Should the straw yield him 20 tons of dressed flax, as he anticipates it will, he will realize $8,000 less expenses. As he is a man of great [illegible] in the business, and thoroughly competent for the work, his estimates have weight and deserve attention. The same quantity of land sown in wheat, producing 25 bushels to the acre, and selling at a dollar a bushel, would only realize $3,125, leaving a difference of $4,875 in favor of the flax crop. This is a subject worthy of the attention of the intelligent farmers of the State. The continuous and increasing sowing of wheat year after year, allowing no rest and giving no manure to the soil, will as infallibly wear out the soil as too much work and too little feed will break down the best horse ever put in harness.

Mr. Williamson will save the seed of his flax this season, as well as the fibre. That will go far to pay all expenses. He, however, thinks that to save the seed the flax gets too ripe, and what he makes by the seed he loses in the quality of the fibre; he will, therefore, likely abandon saving the seed, except what he requires for his own use. The flax crop, like any other, requires experience and judgment in every stage of its progress, so as to make it profitable. These are the advantages that he and the Messrs. Smith Brothers, of Salem, have, and one of the important class of men that Oregon wants. We hope for many more such men to arrive and settle in the State. Mr. Williamson drives his flax mill by water power taken from the Santiam and Albany canal. It is another sample of the value of this additional water power to Albany. All honor to the men of Albany who, by their individual and united action, accomplished this important enterprise at a cost of $50,000. When the merchants, business men generally, and the farmers of Oregon in particular, learn to depend on their individual and united efforts, and less on Congressional and Legislative subsidies, and still less on hungry and corrupt politicians, they will have learned invaluable lessons.

THE RUNNING RACE TO-MORROW,

At 1:30, best 3 in 5, free to all for a purse of $250, will include some of the best blood at the Fair and is expected to be a very interesting one.

The Seattle Dispatch, speaking of the two candidates for Delegate to Congress from Washington Territory, says it is a remarkable coincidence that Sharpstein and Jacobs are about the same age, were natives of adjoining towns in Livingstone county, Western New York, were both sons of farmers, both removed West in early life, Sharpstein to Wisconsin and Jacobs to Michigan, and in other respects they are very fairly matched, with the exception that Jacobs has the advantage of twelve years' longer residence, in which he has been almost constantly identified prominently in public affairs.

Track-laying on the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad commenced last Monday, at or near the Renton coal mines. There is enough track iron to reach from the mines to deep water in the river, and it will at once be utilized by the Coal Company in the coal transportation.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

SALEM, October 7, 1874.

Yesterday was a field day in the House, and such a field day! Looking back over its marvelous record, one is almost inclined to question whether or not the House would better meet again. But more of that anon.

At the afternoon session the bill appropriating $110,000 for

THE UNFINISHED STATE CAPITOL

Was the chief theme of discussion. The debate was opened by Mr. Reed, of Marion, who, in a reasonably brief [illegible] set forth, as clearly as might be, the necessity for providing winter quarters for the State's elephant. The burden of his argument was that the present Legislature is bound by every consideration of economy and prudence to make available the $100,000 planted by the Legislature of 1872 in the square just above Willson Avenue. If the Marion county member [illegible] convinced the House of this, it was certainly not from lack of earnestness. In this view, Mr. Reed was respectably supported by Messrs. Bradshaw, of Yamhill, and Fidler, of Josephine, together with several others who contented themselves with bare statements of opinion. Mr. Gearin, of Multnomah, led the opposition in a concise speech of ten minutes. He argued that it would be exceedingly impolitic, in the present condition of the State finances, to undertake the completion of the Capitol.

THE STATE IS TROUBLED

To devise ways and means to cancel the indebtedness of $500,000 which has been created, for the greater part, within the last few years. The people demand and expect a reduction in taxation, and the application of every cent of revenue to the extinguishment of outstanding obligations. It is deemed a strong point in favor of this appropriation that the moneys asked for can be drawn from the Soldiers' Bounty and Relief Fund without directly levying a tax. What then? argued Mr. Gearin, if the appropriation be drawn from the Soldiers' Bounty and Relief Fund does it not take from the Treasury $110,000 which might otherwise be available in liquidating obligations for which provision must be made? The warrants on the Treasury now out, and endorsed "Not paid for want of funds," are drawing interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum. The State's promises to pay are

HAWKED ABOUT THE STREETS,

And bought from such as are unable to await appropriations, by money-lenders who are drawing interest from year to year. It would be sound business economy to relieve the State of this burden as soon as practicable. The speaker was unwilling to divert a large sum from what was plainly its [illegible] in order to accommodate the Legislature of 1876.

Mr. Chambers, of Benton, said that when, two years ago, the people of Salem [illegible] and received the sum of $100,000, it was understood by a great many that with that amount accommodations could be furnished for the Legislature and for the departments. It was urged that a large [illegible] rent [illegible] paid out would be saved. But that rent is paid to-day. And the people have no guaranty that if this $110,000 be appropriated they will be any better off in 1876. The faith of the State is not pledged to the erection of a costly Capitol, but there are claims which involve its honor, and these should be first [illegible].

Mr. Mays said it was expected when the first appropriation was made that the Capitol would be a modest, unpretentious building suited to the wants of the State, convenient and adapted to the [illegible] of the [illegible]; that the $100,000 would be judiciously expended. He would not say the appropriation had not been economically administered; but the Capitol Commission had laid their foundations broad and deep, had spread the building out over an acre and a half of ground, in order to insure the location of the Capitol at Salem for all time to come. They had commenced a work which it would require many years to complete, and it is likely that the unfinished pile of brick and mortar which now offends the eye will stand in its present condition for years, a monument to the folly of those who projected it. The people of his county had spoken plainly and unequivocally on this subject, and he would not vote another dime.

Mr. Bradshaw, of Yamhill, thought that State pride was involved, and for the credit of Oregon he hoped the appropriation would be made.

Mr. Johnson, of Multnomah, thought the State was too poor to be very proud. In this undertaking it had gone beyond its depth, and now it would do well to pause and consider those things which more deeply concern its material welfare and prosperity. There are wagon roads to be built. The Dalles and Sandy road, one of the most important measures before the House, a measure vital to Eastern Oregon, is treated very gingerly by those very members who are the loudest supporters of this appropriation. The Legislature ought to attend to the railroad bills now under consideration, before indulging farther in the luxury of a Capitol.

THUS THE D[illegible] ARE WAXED WARM,

And when the House adjourned it was apparent that the advocates of the appropriation had been pretty well stirred up by the vigorous opposition. It seems [illegible] that the bill will pass the House: but I am [illegible] that it cannot get a majority in the S[illegible].

FOR THE EDIFICATION OF THE LOBBY.

The lobby was in high spirits last night. It had been given out and industriously circulated that the House would indulge in a bit of a spree under cover of the Committee of the Whole. The famous capacity of the av[illegible] lobbyist for cheap entertainment here found full play.

Seven was the hour for the meeting of the House. At 6 the throng began to pour into the narrow black hole known by courtesy as the Assembly Chamber. There were scores upon scores of ladies, all of them in full dress. They crowded in upon the floor, filled the aisles with their drapery, edged in between the members, invaded the Speaker's desk and in some instances crowded the members out of their seats. For once, at least, the floor of the House was common property. Soon the gallery was overcrowded, and the bolder ones attacked the members in the rear, creeping in at back windows, peering down through skylights and standing on tiptoe wherever they could gain a precarious footing. There was an immense amount of curiosity abroad.

THE IMMEDIATE CAUSE OF ALL THIS TROUBLE

Was H. B. No. 61. There was a woman at the bottom—of course. The bill itself is a simple matter of two or three lines, as follows:

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

SEC. 1. That no person shall be precluded from the right to vote in this State on account of sex.

The House resolved itself into Committee of the Whole, and Mr. Riddle, of Douglas, was called to the Chair. I can not describe the scene which followed, and I strongly suspect that many of the members would not like to see the proceedings on paper. Mr. Reed, of Marion, opened the discussion in a rambling speech of thirty minutes. He held that woman had the right of suffrage under the Constitution of the United States, and in support of his position—to the infinite astonishment of all who had considered themselves informed on the subject—cited Judge Matthew P. Deady. I did not hear and am sure I can not imagine what opinion the gentleman from Marion relied on.

Following Mr. Reed came Messrs. Fidler, Bradshaw, Chambers, Galloway, Mays, Johnson, Cranston, Stott and Gearin. The last named gentleman moved, at the close of his speech, that Mrs. Ballou, a suffragist of [illegible] in this city, be invited to address the House for ten minutes. The motion prevailed. Here commenced a scene which might have been ludicrous in the extreme had one been able to forget that the address was made before one branch of the Oregon Legislature. After Mrs. B., the deluge. The House extended a like courtesy to Mrs. Duniway. Both of the advocates seemed to lose sight of the fact that they [illegible] by courtesy, or sufferance, and the manner in which they handled such of the Representatives as happened to differ with them was a caution. Personalities were freely indulged in to the intense delight of the lobby and to the [illegible] of those members who could not quite forget the dignity of their office and the proprieties of the occasion. Nor were certain of the gentlemen themselves slow to bandy epithets. So indignant was one member who had been the object of one of these attacks, that in closing the debate he said, alluding to Mrs. Duniway: "I had thought, at first, that I would make some reply to Mrs. Duniway, but I am reminded of an old adage about a certain animal which no wise man will disturb." The [illegible] upon this as another pointed characterization, and the Chairman called the gentleman from Yamhill, to order.

During the discussion there was great confusion on the floor, such confusion as I have never before seen except in [illegible] of the Third [illegible] [illegible] into a [illegible] discussion, Mr. [illegible] moved that the Committee [illegible] whole [illegible] to be heard. [illegible] but after had the House committed to this, but a majority of the [illegible] and they [illegible] by the gallery that protest was [illegible]. I have heard it hinted that there were outsiders upon the floor who lent [illegible] was at all [illegible]. This [illegible] lasted for three and one-half hours, during all of which time there was about [illegible] minutes of [illegible] able, coherent talk. The [illegible] of the [illegible] exhibition is not yet fixed. If the House continue these evening [illegible] for the discussion of records and reputations, the [illegible] and theaters will [illegible].

THE HONOR OF THE [illegible]

Is of quaint character. The other day a member objected to the [illegible] of a bill providing for a Dog Census. [illegible] of Benton, [illegible] representative rose and [illegible] with the [illegible] allusion to him (the object [illegible] ber) was intended. [illegible] a member of the Judiciary Co[illegible] called in question the [illegible] of a [illegible] from that committee, [illegible] that if the [illegible] remember in the [illegible] the committee room the night [illegible] in favor of [illegible] to Mr. Bradshaw's [illegible]

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 8 1874.

RETURN OF THE WHITE ELEPHANT

There has been another change in the editorship of the Bulletin About ten days ago it was announced that Mr James O'Meara's connection with the paper had ceased Who was to be his successor was not made public, but as soon as the next number of the paper came out those who have attended closely to such matters, and are acquainted with the writing of the various men who have figured in newspaper literature in Oregon, were at no loss to know who was in the sanctum A gentleman prominently connected with the West Side road, and whose ability as a writer is above the average, had taken the place of Mr O'Meara, and the paper had lost nothing, if indeed it had not gained somewhat, by the exchange It was a decent paper, with respectable ability in its editorial chair But another change has come Yesterday's Bulletin was a production of Holladay's man-of all work, H W Scott His name was not attached, but his performances can never be mistaken for those of any other, nor those of any other for his. As a writer he may be thoroughly and analytically reviewed in four words sterility, ignorance, self-conceit, mendacity What he learned during the period of reconstruction, when party spirit was at high tide and denunciation of whatever the adverse party did or said, passed for sound reasoning, he knows still He knew nothing before, and he has learned nothing since. The old song of party, party, party, trilled and flavored regardless of the demands of truth, filled the Bulletin yesterday just as it did when Mr Holladay had this same dullard in the editorial chair ad interim during Mr O'Meara's absence last winter The saving to the paper by having for editor a man whose salary is paid by the Government, can hardly counterbalance the loss it must suffer from his want of capacity and truthfulness The reputation he made for himself a few years ago by being an amanuensis to write other men's thoughts, puffed him up till his self-conceit knew no bounds When, separated from the man who had done his thinking, he was [illegible] to be an imbecile nobody, he lost all his reputation but none of his self-conceit. However, the Bulletin is Mr Holladay's property and not ours, and the question whether he can afford to substitute blubber that costs him nothing for brains that would have to be paid for, is for him and not us to settle, and we beg his pardon for mentioning it.

HOLLADAY'S AD INTERIM EXHIBITS HIS EARS AGAIN

The ad interim editor of the Bulletin (the Collector of Customs for this port) thinks we assail the decision of the Supreme Court in the case against Judge Denny, when we say the thousands of dollars of fees retained by Denny in addition to his salary were "retained contrary to the clear intent of the law" That is a specimen of Scott's stupidity Section 160 of the law under which Denny holds his office reads -

> The Police Judge shall receive an annual salary payable quarterly, not exceeding eighteen hundred dollars, and not to be reduced during his term of office, which salary shall be fixed by ordinance by the Common Council and paid out of the City Treasury as other salaries are paid, and he shall receive no other compensation for his services

And section 158 reads

> All costs taxed and fines or penalties imposed by the Police Judge in cases before him when collected, shall be paid over to the City Treasurer and duplicate receipts taken therefor one of which shall be filed with the City Auditor

The Supreme Court held that so far as the law deprived Denny of the right to retain the fees taxed by him, it was inoperative on Constitutional grounds. We have not pretended to call their decision in question But does not Denny retain these costs "contrary to the clear intent of the law," nevertheless? Nobody less stupid than the ad interim of the ring organ would think of disputing it Through a technical defect in the act of the Legislature, the "clear intent" of that body cannot be enforced if the Police Judge is not willing to abide by it, and Denny, differing in that respect from his predecessor, Judge Lewis, takes advantage of the defect That is the long and short of the whole matter, as any one but the ad interim of the Bulletin can see

Our correspondent, Reform, insists upon the appropriation of a sum of money by this Legislature sufficient to build an Insane Asylum so the building can be completed and ready for occupancy at the expiration of two years. All of which sounds very well, only the experience we have had in building public building under the present administration doesn't justify the hope of doing any better than getting another elephant on our hands

And how can the people pay the taxes? That is another question Everybody would like to see all the public institutions which the State will be obliged to have in the future pushed forward now, but the people are poor, business is stagnant, our population is but a handful, and the people need rest from the strain of high taxes which they have borne of late

It is said we are at the mercy of Dr Hawthorne, because no other person is prepared to take care of the insane. We can not believe it. We can not admit that the proposition of Dr Carpenter was a blind, or a piece of idle bluster If he proposed to contract for the keeping of the insane he meant to do it, and if the contract should be awarded to him he would perform his part. The Legislature are not forced to give Dr Hawthorne $6 per week, and ought not to do it They can make other provision, and they should not hesitate to [illegible] on the rights of the State

Hon O Jacobs, the Republican nominee, and as we trust, the next Delegate to Congress from Washington Territory, is in this city, and gave us a call last evening He informs us that he has tendered his resignation as Chief Justice of the Territory, in order that there may be no mixing of the [illegible] with politics He will, however, decide some chancery causes that have been already submitted to him before retiring from the bench

TOO GLARING FOR MERE STUPIDITY

> That paper's [the OREGONIAN's] conduct displays characteristic obliquity It says for instance, that Mr Dolph's new bill to regulate our police administration while it cuts off the salary of Lappeus, carefully protects that of Denny In point of fact the Common Council under Dolph's bill, will have power to fix the salaries both of the Chief of Police and the Police Judge

It has been one of the principal complaints in this city, that Police Judge Denny's salary could not be reduced by the Council notwithstanding he was taking [illegible] which were intended by the Legislature to be paid into the City Treasury Mr Dolph's bill does not touch this evil, leaving Denny's salary as it stands, while it repeals the law under which the Chief of Police gets his salary It is difficult to account for this bold misstatement of the Bulletin on any other presumption than that of a deliberate intent to mislead its readers Even the masterly imbecility of the editor pro tem is scarcely sufficient to account for so palpable a misrepresentation

On the 26th of September the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the United States closed its session at Atlanta, Georgia. The week of the session is reported to have been one of continued festivities The guests from abroad expressed themselves very favorably impressed with the city and country, and the character of the people.

The Grand Lodge adopted a uniform for the Order throughout the country revised the ritual, made provision for writing and publishing a complete history of the Order and did much routine business besides disposing of a number of appeals The historian appointed to write the history of Odd Fellowship is Gen Ridgly

The Grand Sire (whose election we have published) made the following appointments John R. Tompkins, of Alabama Grand Marshal, Rev J W Venable, of Kentucky Grand Chaplain (reappointed), W H Foulke, of Delaware, Grand Guardian J W Hudson, of Wisconsin, Grand Messenger.

The grand trunk railway between Portland, Me, and Montreal, has been changed to a narrow gauge. The last broad gauge train passed over the road at 2 o'clock on the morning of the 26th September Immediately after the train passed over the work of changing the grade was commenced all along the line, eighteen men being assigned to each section of four miles, and at 9 o'clock the road was ready for narrow gauge trains. A dispatch says this ends the broad gauge system in Maine, which was inaugurated just 30 years ago.

The letter of Wm Reid Esq, to the members of the Legislature, which we publish this morning, sets forth the facts in regard to immigration in the true light, Mr Reid has done much in getting immigrants to our State from Scotland, and in his efforts in that behalf has become familiar with the practical facts in the premises. He knows wherein consists the principal difficulties to be met, and how to meet them. It is hoped the letter will insure a candid consideration of the subject by the Legislature

"Personal enmity is no sufficient motive for Legislation," says Holladay's ad interim. That is the main ground upon which we criticised Mr Dolph's bill to cut off the big steal of the Chief of Police and retain the bigger one of the Police Judge Neither personal enmity nor personal friendship is a sufficient motive for legislation nor is the interest of a political ring a sufficient motive. But these are exactly the motives for Dolph's Police bill

A convention is to be held on the 21st inst., at Louisville, Kentucky to consider the question of moving the capitol of the United States from Washington City to some point in the Mississippi valley Among the delegates we notice the names of Senators Logan and Oglesby of Illinois, besides others distinguished in politics

Bishop Lee, of the diocese of Iowa, died at his residence in the city of Davenport, on the 26th of September, of malignant erysipelas, brought on by an injury received in the hand in falling down stairs two weeks previously He was in his sixtieth year

THE ASYLUM AGAIN

SALEM, Oct 6, 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I think you mistake the interests of the State in opposing the building of a lunatic asylum You say cut down Dr Hawthorne's figures, or let the contract to Dr Carpenter, etc But suppose Dr H won't cut down his figures, and as the State has no alternative but to accept any terms he may propose it isn't likely he will Dr Carpenter is not prepared to take two hundred insane patients, and no individual in the State is, save Dr Hawthorne. Thus the State is, as it ever has been at his mercy He might say ten dollars a week and ten years and the State would be compelled to contract with him And if no provision for building an asylum is made by this Legislature, the State will still be at his mercy when the next contract shall end Indeed as the number of insane increases the State, with no asylum of its own, becomes more helpless as it becomes more and more impossible for private individuals to provide for so many and thus compete with Dr Hawthorne

You hold up the foundation walls of the Capitol as a warning against undertaking any other public building It will not cost a great sum to cover in those walls so as to protect them from injury they have, in any event, got to be covered to protect them from the storms of the approaching winter When once covered, they can as well stand two or four winters as one.

I believe an appropriation of $100 000 with convict labor and material, will build a lunatic asylum The asylum grounds are connected with the penitentiary and hence such labor and material can be safely and cheaply used I am satisfied one who will calculate the difference between the cost of the State's hiring Dr Hawthorne to keep its insane or keeping them itself cannot resist the conclusion that in four years' time at the very most, the $100 000 can be saved In this calculation let it not be forgotten to take into account the amount of labor a portion of the patients do and can perform

Now shall the State make provision for its insane at the end of this contract or shall its interests again be at the mercy of the only man who can take care of them?

Sound policy would dictate that the contract now be let for two years, and an asylum erected in that time REFORM

JUDGE POLAND'S DEFENSE.—Boston Sept. 25 Judge Poland writes a letter to the Journal of Commerce, saying: "In your last paper I see quite a sharp article on me in connection with the revision of the United States Statutes I have recently received so much attention from the press that I have been obliged to forego any attempt to answer it and I would not now except that I am anxious that the Revised Statutes be not discussed by personal attacks on me" Judge Poland says he did not deny that the Newspaper Gag law contained any attack upon the right of speech or press He was asked if the bill would have any effect upon a suit or prosecution which it was said Senator Chandler had instituted against some [illegible] concerned, and he replied that it would not Nobody had ever pretended that it did or could, that he had heard of He had no thought of [illegible] or prosecutions for libel in connection with the bill and does not believe any member of the Judiciary Committee by whom the bill was considered and reported had He said and says again that the law did not have any application to or effect upon prosecutions for libel

NOTABLE WEDDING.

For days past the absorbing topic among the social circles in our midst, and even abroad, was the approaching nuptials of a prominent member of the medical profession with a young lady connected with the family of one of our most highly esteemed citizens. Last evening and Trinity Church was the time and place appointed for the event. The parties directly connected in the affair were Curtis C. Strong, M. D., son of Judge William Strong, of this city, and Miss Alice M. Henderson, daughter of Mr. Jos. Henderson, of Yamhill county. Although several hundred invitations to the wedding ceremony were issued, but few of those thus favored were enabled to procure seats, as all were quickly filled in advance by many who gained admission to the church against the desire of those in charge. The spacious edifice was filled to its utmost capacity, a great number of persons being crowded outside of the main entrance.

On the altar were displayed flowers and wreaths, and in other respects the beautiful antique interior of the edifice was appropriately decorated, presenting on the whole one of the grandest scenes ever known in affairs of like character in this city. We observed in the vast audience the most prominent citizens of our city—the ladies, in particular, predominating. Shortly after 8 o'clock the wedding party appeared, and passed up the main aisle, the grand organ, presided over by Mr. George L. DePrans, sending forth in its grandest tones a beautiful wedding march. Arriving at the clerical altar, Rev. George H. Burton, in his robes, stepped forward, and in the beautiful Episcopal rites performed the marriage ceremony. Rev. John Rosenberg was present to assist. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party retraced their steps to the carriage in waiting, and were quickly driven to the residence of Judge M. P. Deady, where a brilliant reception was held. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Stone, Miss Laura Adair, daughter of Col. Adair, of Astoria, and Miss Hattie Nesmith, daughter of Hon. J. W. Nesmith, and the groomsman was Mr. Frederick Strong, brother of the groom. The bride was attired in pure white, with the customary wreath of flowers and snowy veil. The bridesmaids were dressed in becoming taste, as were the bridegroom and groomsman. The ushers were Messrs. J. D. DuBois, Geo. Good, O. E. Withington and James Laidlaw.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The schooner Mila Bea[illegible] is announced to sail for Tillamook on next Monday.

A change in the time table of the N. P. R. R. appears in the advertisement of this Company. Note it.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

This evening there will be a meeting of the members of the Pioneer Base Ball Club, at the office of Mr. John Gearin, Dekum's block. Meeting will commence at 8 o'clock, sharp. All members are requested to be present.

OREGON.

The Salem Recorder collected fines and licenses in September amounting to $520.

Up to 6 o'clock last Tuesday evening there had been 48 articles entered for the State Fair.

Twenty-five stables have been engaged at the Fair grounds for fine horses from Portland.

Twenty additional stables for horses and 25 cattle stalls are being erected on the Fair Grounds.

A burning straw stack in the suburbs of Salem drew out the Fire Department of that city on Tuesday night last.

There are several hundred emigrants now en route to Union county from Kelton. They will settle in Grande Ronde, Indian and Wallowa valleys.

A son of Hiram Hearing, aged twelve years, living near Summerville, while wrestling a few days since, received a fracture of the arm two inches below the elbow.

At the Union County Fair last week, there was some very fine trials of speed. The 2d day in a race of 2-year olds, single dash of one mile, A. C. Smith's Jenny Lind won in 1:58. On the 3d day, 2 best in 3, mile heats, for 3-year olds, T. Green's Bluster won in 1:50, 1:51. Same day, for trot[illegible], 3 in 5, won by Jo[illegible]ph Weather's Bashan in 3:09, 3:00½, 2:59½, 2:58. On the 4th day, best 3 in 5, running horses, free for all, George Ross' mare Trifle won in 1:48, 1:50½, 1:51½. The track is said to be short.

The Sta[illegible] says: John Mead, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Mead, of Salem, on Monday last met his death near Oregon City under the following sad circumstances: Himself and a companion were out hunting in the woods, and Johnny had just clambered over a huge log when his companion requested him to take his gun while he climbed over likewise. The rifle was an "understriker," the hammer being beneath the barrel, and as it was drawn across the log the h[illegible] was raised, and flying back with a spring exploded the cap and sent the ball whizzing through his brain, killing him in[illegible]ly, it entering midway betw[illegible] the eyes.

The Salem Record says: "Mr. F. E. Eldridge owns the donation claim of Joseph Gervais which lies on the Willamette river one and a half miles above Fairfield. It was first settled the same year the Hudson Bay Company moved from Astoria to Vancouver, about forty years ago, perhaps more, and it has been farmed continuously ever since. The H. B. Co. concluded to try the experiment of grain raising and Gervais came up the Willamette river, located there, and commenced farming under their auspices. The present year about 275 acres of this land was under cultivation, and raised over 10,000 bushels of grain. One acre and a half of oats yielded 165 bushels; 110 bushels to the acre. The average yield of oats on other ground was 64 bushels. The ground was summer-fallowed. His best wheat averaged 40 bushels to the acre, some of it grown on land cultivated forty years, and the average of all, spring and fall sowing, was 30 bushels to the acre. Three-fourths of all the land was fallowed."

The following particulars are given in the La Grand Sentinel of the most outrageous murder at Sparta, in Baker county, on the 26th ult.: A man by the name of McWaters (sup[illegible] to be assumed) shot and killed instantly with a needle-gun George Weed. McWaters and his victim met in front of Colin's store, and in consequence of some previous misunderstanding, McWaters applied foul epithets to Weed; Weed informed McWaters that he was not armed; McWaters then bantered him to fight a fist fight. Weed told McWaters he would if he would lay aside his arms. Weed then went on the porch of the store, when McWaters shot him dead as he was entering the store. The ball entered below the collar bone on the right side and came out through his heart. McWaters then recharged his gun and mounted his horse, and has not been seen since. One thousand dollars reward is, we are informed, offered for his arrest. McWaters is supposed to be an escaped convict from Nebraska, where he was undergoing sentence for murder. Mr. Weed is supposed to be his third victim.

Now that the grand wedding is over, turn your attention to the matter of dress. Beck & Waldman inform the public that their stock of clothing, etc., and youths' wear, is the largest in town. Call.

NEW STORE—NEW GOODS.—At the Ladies' Bazar you will find a full assortment of Ladies' Furnishing Goods, Laces, Trimmings, Corsets, Hosiery, Embroideries, and a general assortment of Fancy Goods. No. 71 First street.

A live California lion is worth looking at. We have no animal so much dreaded; none so destructive and hard to tame as these animals. This lion will permit his keeper to enter his cage, rear his paws upon his shoulders and exhibit signs of malignant pleasure on seeing him.

The fall season has fairly set in, and with it our merchants are opening their new stocks in large quantities. Among those who have prepared for the rush, we find those well known clothiers, Beck & Waldman, who are not behind any in their selections of fall and winter goods. They have studied the present wants of customers, and accordingly have purchased at the lowest figure, with the object of affording their patrons the greatest advantages. Boys' clothing is a specialty with this house, and parents should note the fact.

If you want something that is new and nobby in the way of clothing, we would advise you to call on KOHN, who recently brought up an entire new stock of these goods. He is in the best humor over the fact that he has the finest stock in town. When you have time call and look over his goods, and if Kohn can't satisfy you, why you can put yourself down as a poor judge of clothing and what a reasonable charge is.

YOUR FALL CLOTHING.—'Tis time to order your early Fall Clothing now, and of course you know that you should order from JOHN O'NEIL & CO.'S, 93 First street. If you care about either price or quality, as everybody in and about Portland know that no one can "get away with" their establishment in any respect. They have at pr[illegible] a large stock to which will be added the very latest styles, Mr. O'Neil having selected, only a few days ago, everything that is new in the San Francisco houses. For excellence of goods, superiority of make, beauty of style and satisfactory prices we commend J. O'Neil & Co.

Recollect the Havana Cigar Store, First, near Washington street.

The Gorgons were three celebrated sisters whose hairs were entwined with serpents; they had wings of gold, their heads were of brass, their bodies covered with scales, their teeth were as long as the tusks of a wild boar, and they turned to stone all on whom they fixed their eyes. They are mythological creations—but in these days, there may be seen some women who are regardless of their person and adornments—they allow the charms which nature accords to all their sex, their hair, to become dishevelled, unhealthy and finally to drop out; when, by the use of LYON'S KATHAIRON, they could retain it in all its beauty, and present to their lovers and husbands the witching grace of comeliness.

Ear Ache is unquestionably the "King of the Forest" where pains grow. It overtops tooth-ache in its worst estate, and its victims declare that it almost maddens them. Yet a few drops of the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT poured into the ear affords instant, and what is far better, permanent relief. This preparation has been sold for thirty years and, whoever tried, is regarded as a specific for all neuralgic pains. It may safely be used upon children of tender age. It is to be found in any drug store on this continent, and abroad as well.

Our Climate has much to do with the complexion—our mode of living more. What multitudes of ladies resort to powders and adulterations, which they rub upon their necks and faces, like kalsominers put whiting on disfigured walls, forgetful that water will remove the covering, and leave the skin unhealthy. A remedy is offered in HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, which for so very many years has contributed to the beautification and health of the complexion and skin of American ladies.

The greater num[illegible] of persons afflicted with dyspepsia are to be found among care-worn speculators, stock-brokers, merchants and ardent students, with those confined to sedentary habits, who neglect or have no opportunity to take sufficient exercise. The use of the world renowned PLANTATION BITTERS will supply the wear and tear of the system, and render it healthy.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 8, 1874.

STATE AID FOR IMMIGRATION.

LETTER FROM WM. REID TO THE LEGISLATORS.

PORTLAND, October 6, 1874.

Hon. ________, Senator of the Legislative Assembly, Salem—SIR: I do not own a single acre land in Oregon, have not and never intend to interfere in the politics of your country; and whether or not this State [illegible] progress she ought to, I shall not, nor the Company I represent, be personally benefited in either way. I am, and have been, the friend of emigration from the mother country, and to-day I stand personally responsible for the well being of a number of Scotch and English people who have come here, and are still coming, through my efforts in making Oregon known in British countries, as in my opinion the only State in the American Union pre-eminently suited for the British people—much more so than any British colony. Representing Oregon, as you do, in the Legislature, you will, I trust, listen to the few remarks I am about to make, and at the same time give me credit for being desirous disinterestedly to assist in advancing whatever relates to the welfare of Oregon.

Are the people of Oregon honestly desirous of settling up this country, and of inviting foreigners to reside amongst them? If they are, then the Legislature has undertaken a serious responsibility. On the invitation of the State, immigrants have come, and are coming, [illegible] from Europe and the Eastern States, [illegible] friends here, are strangers in a strange land, knowing no one, not even the different portions of the State, and generally arrive at Portland. Timorous, they feel lost, seek for guidance, and ask for some Government Board which will give them authentic information, suited to their various pursuits, to enable them to settle in the State. They may accost a respectable citizen on the street and ask his advice, but he, though willing, is too busy with his own affairs to [illegible]. In which he knows is purely the duty of the State, and consequently the poor immigrant falls into the hands of designing people, who, with interested motives, offer their [illegible]. What are the results? Let experience answer. Either the immigrant spends his money [illegible], or (what is found by consulting those who are in charge of the transportation facilities of the country) returns again. Actually, seven out of every ten immigrants who arrive at Portland return back to California—many of them, never having been out of Portland, cursing this State as a timbered country, unfit for habitation, and warning their friends in foreign countries (who also would have followed them, had their report been favorable), never to come to Oregon—thus causing incalculable damage to the State's reputation in foreign countries, and building up California, where they generally thereafter reside. And yet the offer of three of the most enlightened gentlemen of this city (whose reputation is above suspicion), who philanthropically agree, without pay or reward, to become a State Board of Immigration, and to give advice and protection to immigrants, and to appoint agents [illegible] in foreign countries to make Oregon known, is actually refused by the Legislative Assembly!!

Gentlemen, what construction will intending immigrants place upon such refusal to protect and guide them when they arrive here? None other than that this State discourages immigration.

For my part, I feel sickened and ashamed at the obstacles which always seem to be thrown in my path, to impede my efforts for immigration to this State of my countrymen, which I have encouraged for two years past. In 1872, when a resident of [illegible], Scotland, my attention was first directed to Oregon, and finding that the State did nothing to make itself known in Great Britain, and that no printed information on Oregon [illegible] be found, I drew a pamphlet of 88 columns, descriptive of your State, got it verified by Gov. Grover, and had thirty thousand copies printed and circulated gratuitously all over Great Britain and Ireland, and partly in New Zealand; the fruits of which are already [illegible] to be seen by almost every steamer which arrives here. These immigrants find me out in Portland and seek my guidance. Those financial gentlemen whom I represent here do not interfere in land or immigration matters, (our business relating entirely to loaning money and to foreign shipping) [illegible] my time is so absorbed that I cannot [illegible] devote my time to guide these individuals, and for that reason no one is more anxious than I am that the State appoint a Board of Immigration. I feel that having by my pamphlet enticed Scotch and English immigrants to come here, I ought to render them as much assistance in my power as possible; but while I am willing to spend an hour or two each day in doing so, yet I submit the burden ought not to be borne on me alone. The State is and will be benefited by all immigrants, and it is its duty to guide them.

Immigration is not a political matter. It is a duty incumbent on the State and on every citizen, and its benefits are felt by all. You ought therefore to organize a perfect plan, (taking care not to vote moneys for salaries of useless officials,) and provide for the careful distribution of printed matter among the farming and manufacturing classes of Europe and the Eastern States, and their protection when they arrive here. Every British colony and possession has, without one exception, Boards of Immigration (inexpensively managed) at every port of arrival, for the protection and guidance of immigrants, where is afforded to all the following benefits:

1. The Board receives and takes charge of all immigrants; gives them advice and guidance to settle.
2. Cheap steamer and railroad fares are given to the interior by the transportation companies generally half fares to immigrants.
3. Authentic printed information is furnished, verified by the Board, as to every portion of the country, for gratuitous circulation.
4. A record is kept of the State and other public and private lands and farms for sale at stated prices, (leaving intending purchasers to communicate [illegible] without the Board's intervention. The Board in no way undertakes sales of land.
5. A labor record is kept, where all employers, wishing [illegible] skilled labor, send in their names, and those immigrants wishing situations call and examine the same.
6. Pamphlets, statistics and details of the State's resources are forwarded abroad to persons named at the request of any citizen, and also forwarded to Immigration Commissioners in Europe.
7. The Immigration Board procures, at the request of any citizen, any agricultural or skilled labor [illegible] from Europe; or citizens desirous of forming and importing small colonies to settle in the State, forward the conditions to the various State Commissioners on Immigration in Europe.

Such a Board is required for Oregon. As a stranger come amongst you, I have examined your wants, and from my opinion of other countries, I say most emphatically, from a disinterested point of view, that the main thing (in addition to railroads) of vital importance to Oregon, which she needs so much to-day, is an honest State Board of Immigration. There is before you no other Legislative measure of such importance. The funds necessary for such purposes need not exceed $7,500 a year, and I am told if such sum was voted, public spirit would subscribe $2,000 to $3,000 more each year for the same purpose.

I am satisfied from my experience of like results in the British possessions, that this sum in State taxes alone would be repaid five-fold to the State (without [illegible] the taxes to be derived by counties, cities and school districts) the very first year, and ten-fold the second year, while beyond the State's own pecuniary benefits in taxes, the various industries of the country, and especially agriculture, would progress and [illegible] wonderfully, instead of lying dormant, as they are at present.

You must never forget what was proven by the British Commissioner of Emigration for the Australian colonies, that every British immigrant brings with him in gold, to whatever new country he emigrates to, an average of $1,500 to each person, without his labor. If you only get among you one hundred persons a year, that would be $150,000 a year on which State taxes would be paid, without taking into consideration the benefits to all which would otherwise accrue in developing the State. There is not, therefore, I submit, an intelligent man in Oregon but will admit to-day that if such an Immigration Board be honestly conducted, it would do more good to all [illegible] of citizens than any other ten legislative measures (railroads excepted) which the Legislative Assembly may pass this session.

I might, if time permitted, narrate other strong reasons, and give you other information to satisfy you that the measure of importance to Oregon to-day is immigration. This is within the reach of the most economical Legislature, and its benefits are so apparent (especially where the Board offer to act without remuneration) that I trust the Legislative Assembly will no longer hesitate about the practicability of the measure.

I suggest that you appoint a Committee of Immigration to examine witnesses and ascertain before voting any sum, how the money desired for the purposes of immigration is to be expended, and ascertain for yourselves what other benefits will accrue to the State therefrom. I shall be happy (if wished) to appear before such committee, and give whatever information I may possess.

You need only put the measure in force for two years, by which time its advantages by experience will be so apparent to us all that you will only be too glad to extend it for a longer period.

WILLIAM REID.

Wheat in Liverpool, by mail advices from San Francisco, 10s@10s 4d for average California, and 10s 4d@10s 9d for club.

Telegrams to the Portland Board of Trade to-day are as follows: Liverpool, October 7.—California white wheat, range of average per cental, 10s@10s 4d; California club, 10s 6d@11s. London, October [illegible]—Wheat, California average quality for shipment, [illegible] qr of 500 lbs. California average on the passage, just shipped, 45s. California average quality, nearly due at Queenstown, 46s [illegible] qr of 500 lbs. The Liverpool wheat market for spot cargoes seems firmer and steady.

In our local money market there is an increasing demand for funds to move the large portion of the wheat crop, which, it now seems, is soon to be placed on the market. This demand, so far, has been readily met, and no stringency is yet felt, but should exporters or others conclude that all the vessels in market must be loaded, the call may be made on parties outside the State for funds to supply any deficiency that may arise. Rates are firm, but prime commercial paper is freely discounted whenever offered in the market.

British Wheat Imports.

The imports of wheat into the United Kingdom for the harvest year ending on the 31st of August amounted to 43,598,500 cwt, or nearly 49,000,000 centals. The imports for the first half of the year were 16,007,000 cwt, and for the last half, 27,591,000 cwt. The sources of the imports for the year were as follows:

[illegible] cwts	5,734,600	Egypt, cwts	553,500
Denmark	148,200	United States	24,146,200
Germany	2,676,500	Chile	1,788,600
France	64,900	British N. Amer.	4,624,200
Austria	15,700	Other sources	3,264,800
Turkey	554,800
Total			43,598,500

There was a larger quantity drawn from the United States than from all other sources combined, the total shipped by the United States being about 55 per cent. of the aggregate imports. Adding wheat and flour, the imports last year were 95,787,000 centals, against 101,000,000 centals in the previous year, and 79,564,400 centals in 1871-72.

A [illegible] our local market today, brought but few new or important facts to light. Buyers are generally [illegible] to quote the demand as dull and claim that before the week closes, the price must decline to $1 20 per cental. At current rates, a good deal is changing hands in the interior, and large receipts to load the vessels now in port, are noted at this point.

Notwithstanding the tardiness with which the movement in wheat [illegible] is at hand are rapidly filling up, and a few weeks more, without fresh arrivals, will [illegible] our docks nearly deserted. In addition to those [illegible] sailed, the St. Nicholas, Huntley Castle, Ramolino, Arbutus, Brighton, Soren Berner, St. Patrick and Clara, are now claiming to have their cargoes in sight and expect to be off in ten days for Europe. In the same length of time the Elizabeth Dougall and Garibaldi will be nearly or quite loaded for China. At present Messrs. Corbitt & Macleay are loading the Arbutus for parties at Albany, who chartered her through them. The same firm, as agents for the charter parties in San Francisco, expect to clear the Ramolino the present week, and to put the Brighton on the berth [illegible] & Co. are ready with a cargo for the Soren Berner and the agent of E. E. Morgan Sons expects to get the St. Nicholas [illegible] days more, having already 500 tons on board. The Clara, we learn, will be put on the berth as soon as the St. Nicholas clears. The Prince Charlie, under charter to Kinney & Sons, [illegible], is at Astoria with 400 tons on board and [illegible] 31. So that the present month promises to witness a [illegible] export trade in this cereal than any that [illegible] in the history of our State.

That other vessels will be here, [illegible] all those now at hand are out of the way, is quite probable; but that we will have the same overcrowded condition of our docks again this season is not likely. With the foreign markets in the same condition, our own is not likely to be so active when there are no ships here on demurrage, as at present, when there are several whose "lay days" are quite or nearly up.

The vessels in the river, and which we hear of no immediate preparations to load, some of which have not yet been chartered, are the Middlesex, Dovenby, Beulah, City of Dublin, Sarah Scott, Satara and Frank N. Thayer. These are all disengaged, except, perhaps, the Sarah Scott, and are open to negotiations with parties who may wish to charter them.

The foregoing facts are given that our readers may form upon them their own judgment as to the future course of the market. That future is unknown to all, except as it can be judged by facts surrounding us in the present.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamer California will sail from this port on to-morrow, at 4 P. M., for Sitka and intermediate ports.

The barks Ramolino and St. Nicholas will probably drop down the river, to complete their cargoes, the latter part of this week.

The schooner Hera will go down the river to-morrow, destined for San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 7.—Flour—Fair export demand and prices very low; superfine, $4 37½@4 5 12½.

Wheat—Five cargoes have been cleared this month up to last evening; also one of flour; millers complain that they cannot get all the wheat they want at $1 50; shippers decline to offer over $1 45, but are believed to be paying relatively higher rates in the country, and hence a comparatively small quantity is on sale in the market; fair milling, $145.

Barley—Good feed, $1 05@1 10; bay brewing, $1 10@1 20; chevalier, $1 60@1 65.

Oats—600 tons have just been made up for Australia, but the market shows no appreciable improvement; light grades, especially dull; medium to good feed, $1 40@1 50; choice to very heavy, $1 55@1 60; Surprise, $1 65.

Potatoes—sweet, $1 12½@1 25; Cuffey Cove and Bodega Point, $1 10@1 20; Half-moon Bay and other varieties, 85@[illegible] 12½.

Dairy Produce—Point Reyes fresh roll butter, 55@57½c; other dairies, 50@52½c; pickled roll, 37½@40c; firkin, 30@35c. Cal cheese, 12@16c; Western, 15½@16c; New York State Factory, 15½@16c. Eastern eggs, 25@27½c; Oregon do, 30@32½c; Cal do, 40@42½c ℔ doz.

Wool—The market during the past week has been very quiet, and sales foot up only about 20,000 lbs. We cannot quote good fall at over 20c, and even at that price there is no activity.

NOMINATION FOR CHIEF ENGINEER.

THE FOLLOWING PREAMBLE AND RESOLUtions were unanimously adopted at a meeting held by Protection Engine Company No 4, on Thursday, October 1, 1874:

WHEREAS, The time is fast approaching in which it will, in accordance with law, become the duty of the FIRE DEPARTMENT to select from among its members a suitable person in whose ability and integrity we may safely rely in times of great danger, for the office of CHIEF ENGINEER; and

WHEREAS, The known ability as well as the past services of ROBERT HOLMAN point to him as being the the right man in the right place; therefore, be it

Resolved by this Company, That we hereby NOMINATE and agree to support ROBERT HOLMAN, a member of this Company and present FOREMAN thereof, for the office of CHIEF ENGINEER of the PORTLAND FIRE DEPARTMENT at the coming election for Chief and Assistant Engineers, to be held on the first Monday in December, 1874.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the daily papers of this city.

Rumors of [illegible]

[Ne]w Orleans, October 8.—Reports [illegible] yesterday of troubles in St. Martin's parish [illegible] that the White League was under arms. Fol[illegible] dispatch received here [illegible] New Iberia [illegible] the [illegible] "Col. [illegible] who is here to-day, says the [illegible] [illegible] affairs in St. Martin's, published in one [illegible] yesterday, purporting to be [illegible] [illegible] are utterly false. Neither at that time nor [illegible] arrival of troops have citizens been [illegible] [illegible] this part of the parish. All are [illegible] [illegible] their crops."

The C[illegible]

[illegible] Advisory Board held a stormy session [illegible] [illegible] five or six hours. Mr. [illegible] introduced a resolution stating that the White League [illegible] being organized and [illegible] [illegible]ment. [illegible]

Kellogg's Last Trick.

[Conse]rvatives of this city are greatly excited by [illegible] Governor Kellogg will [illegible] a bill passed [illegible] legislature last winter providing a new [illegible] for the city, and giving appointment to him [illegible] city officers from Mayor down. Under a decision of the Supreme Court of this State, the Governor can hold a bill [illegible] at one [illegible] of the [legisl]ature until [illegible] annual [illegible] either vetoing or [illegible] eight months It is charged, the Governor [he]ld this bill in [illegible] give the heads of [illegible] and the Municipal Government. The [illegible] election for Mayor and Administ[illegible] [illegible] on the [illegible] have just been nominated by Conservatives [illegible] positions. They claim that the city is Conservative by a large majority, and that the ticket [will be] elected unless the Gov[illegible] [illegible] the decision above referred [illegible] [illegible] the new charter bill even after the [illegible] [illegible] was issued to-day by the [illegible] protesting against any such [illegible] the Governor, though express[illegible] [illegible] such intention exists on his part. [illegible] concludes as follows: "We [illegible] any language of menace, we declare that in our [illegible] any such act would be [illegible] with [illegible] serious [illegible] and would [illegible] the public peace [illegible] desire to see preserved."

[Th]e Redemption Bureau will not [illegible] the redemption of national bank notes until [illegible] [illegible] instant, though it might be rea[illegible] now, but [illegible] the Treasury desires to perfect such [illegible] as will make business continuous.

Soldiers for the S[outh].

General Sheridan was to-day notified by the Secretary of War that if he could spare a regiment of infantry from his command to send it South for service in that section. Applications are constantly [reach]ing the Department from Alabama, Texas [illegible] Louisiana for troops. The Secretary says: "If [we] were compelled to comply with all applications [rec]eived it would be necessary to largely increase [the] force of the army."

[W]ashington, October 8.—In compliance with the [req]uest of Secretary Belknap, made yesterday on [Gen.] Sheridan, to detach a regiment of [illegible] [De]partment, for duty in the South, Gen. Sheridan has issued orders directing the 13th infantry, [com]manded by Col. P. R. De Trobriand, to report [illegible] to that Department. The Secretary of War, [this] morning, received a dispatch announcing that [illegible] companies of the regiment, under Lieut.-Col. [illegible] had started for the South, and that other [com]panies will follow as soon as they can be collected. When Gen. Sheridan was in Washington [atte]nding the Sherman wedding, in an interview [wit]h Attorney-General Williams, he told that official [tha]t to withdraw any of the troops under his command would tend to cripple him in his war [illegible] movement against Indians. It was agreed that he [sho]uld not be [illegible] for any of the military in his Department. To-day, an order was [issu]ed which indicates that there is some strong [com]pelling motive at work that has succeeded in [bre]aking that agreement.

The Rebellion.

RIO JANEIRO, October 7.—A dispatch from Buenos Ayres to-day says Government has asked Congress for a grant of $2,000,000 to meet expenses of the war. There has been a slight [illegible] outside of the [illegible] It ended with the retreat of the Government troops. It is rumored that negotiations have been opened with the insurgent bodies.

Negotiations have been opened for the purchase of Lake Weewanapee, Connecticut Farms, Union county, N. J. The price fixed is $300,000, and the transfer is to be made on [illegible] next. The lake covers an area of 200 acres, and is fed by never-failing springs. The purchasers are to use it for the raising of [illegible]es, trout, and salmon. It will be divided off into compartments, so that the several species of fish in its waters may be divided from each other. It is said that the negotiations are being conducted in the interest of the Prussian Government, and that the salmon will be taken to Prussia to stock the rivers of that country.
